

Workforce for the 21st Century

Goal Leaders

Dr. Jeff T.H. Pon, Director, Office of Personnel Management

Jay Gibson, Chief Management Officer, Department of Defense

Peter Warren, Associate Director for Performance and Personnel Management,
Office of Management and Budget

Goal Statement

- Effective and efficient mission achievement and improved service to America through enhanced alignment and strategic management of the Federal workforce.

Guiding Principles

- Modernizing the Federal workforce and implementing targeted “people” strategies is a critical component to transforming the government.
- The mission of the Federal government remains a significant strength, and we must enhance alignment of the workforce to mission to maximize this strength.
- Strategic workforce management will drive transformation by addressing certain root cause workforce issues, to include: strengthening leadership of human capital systems; developing better human resources processes and capabilities; and, enhancing the workforce culture.

“So, tonight, I call on Congress to empower every Cabinet Secretary with the authority to reward good workers and to remove Federal employees who undermine the public trust or fail the American people.”

- President Trump, State of the Union, January 29, 2018

Challenges

- Parts of today's personnel system are a relic of an earlier era that ill-serves Federal managers and employees.
- The Federal personnel system is unduly complex leading to a focus on compliance and transaction management rather than results and customer service.
- Instead of agencies determining the best way to accomplish the mission, they map jobs in a fixed manner with outdated processes and functions.
- Not aligning the workforce to mission requirements means the workforce is not being leveraged to meet emerging needs.
- HR IT systems are antiquated and not interoperable.

STRATEGIC WORKFORCE MANAGEMENT

ENABLERS:

- Leverage data and analytics
- Utilize information technology and tools
- Align financial models/incentives
- Simplify legal and policy framework
(requires legislative and regulatory change)

Opportunity for transformation:

To achieve a state where Federal agencies and managers can hire the best employees, remove the worst employees, and engage employees at all levels of the organization, the Government must put a framework in place that drives and encourages strategic human capital management.

The 21st Century Workforce Cross-agency Priority Goal includes the following subgoals:

1. Improving employee performance management and engagement,
2. Reskilling and redeploying human capital resources, and
3. Enabling simple and strategic hiring practices.

In addition to the three primary subgoals, Goal Leaders will promote opportunities for continuous learning. This will allow agencies and the human capital community to integrate innovations, research, and results from pilot projects into practice.

The strategies and milestones outlined in this Goal Structure work within the existing administrative and legal framework, to compliment broader policy changes the Administration may seek through legislative or regulatory change.

Goal Leaders: OPM, DoD, OMB

Improve Employee Performance Management & Engagement

Strategies:

- Provide support to managers, equipping them to manage effectively.
- Streamline performance management and dismissal procedures.
- Increase the link between pay and performance, and regularly reward high performers.
- Strengthen organizational management practices and accountability for employee engagement.
- Focus intense employee engagement improvement efforts on the lowest-performing organizations, to reduce mission risk.

Reskill & Redeploy Human Capital Resources

Strategies:

- Identify opportunities for automation, and increase the overall efficiency of the workforce.
- Invest in and develop the workforce based on identification of emerging and mission critical skills.
- Reskill and redeploy employees from lower value work activities to higher value work activities.

Simple & Strategic Hiring

Strategies:

- Make it easier to recruit top talent, reducing the time it takes to complete the hiring cycle from recruitment to onboarding.
- Improve the ability to differentiate applicants' qualifications, competencies, and experience.
- Develop the capacity and skills of HR professionals to better serve customers.
- Add hiring process automation.
- Improve the applicant experience.
- Eliminate burdensome policies and procedures.

Based on technology available in 2016:

Percentage of occupations that could be automated entirely

Percentage of occupations that could have 30%+ of their activities automated

Percentage of total work activities that could be automated

2018 Federal Workforce Priorities Report

Although the impact of machine assistance varies by occupation, the use of automation has the potential to provide employees with time to focus on more important work. Reskilling and redeployment strategies may be required to shift staff time to higher value duties.

Overall Employee Engagement Index

The Employee Engagement Index (EEI) is a measure of an agency's work environment — the conditions that lead to engagement. The index is made up of three subfactors: Leaders Lead, Supervisors, and Intrinsic Work Experience.

Government-Wide Average

Satisfaction with Dealing with Poor Performance

"In my work unit, steps are taken to deal with a poor performer who cannot or will not improve."

Government-Wide Average

Satisfaction with Hiring People with the Right Skills

"My work unit is able to recruit people with the right skills."

Government-Wide Average

Note: Satisfaction was measured on a 5-point satisfaction scale. The percentages shown on the bar charts above correspond to the number of respondents indicating they were "satisfied" or "very satisfied" with the associated statements divided by the total number of responses. The change in these graphs is calculated by taking the current year's percentage value minus the previous year's percentage value.
